Forecast For London & Southeast England
Issued by Met Office Exeter
at 0400 on Thursday 08 Jul 2021

++ Valid for broadcast between 0600 and 1800

Headline:
Dry morning, scattered afternoon showers. South coast largely dry.

Today:
Any overnight mist patches short-lived.  Scattered afternoon showers developing, possibly still locally heavy in the northeast, lighter elsewhere. South coast largely dry. Showers die away through the evening. Feeling pleasantly warm, with light winds. Maximum temperature 23 deg C (73 deg F).

Tonight:
It will become mostly dry overnight with some clear spells, and perhaps the odd mist patch forming. Winds will remain generally light. Minimum temperature 13 deg C (55 deg F).

Friday:
Mostly dry, bright morning with sunny spells. Some early patchy mist possible. Isolated afternoon showers developing, mainly in the east, but elsewhere mainly dry. Maximum temperature 23 deg C (73 deg F).

Outlook for Saturday to Monday:
Staying unsettled, with further sunny spells and showers throughout. These are likely to be heavy or thundery at times, particularly Saturday and Monday. Temperatures mostly near normal.

(C) Crown Copyright 2021. Published by the Met Office.